STIPULATION AMONG PARTIES TO EXTEND TIME FOR DISCOVERY DEADLINES

TBMP Sections 403; 501.03; and 509

Petitioner and Respondent, being all parties to the above-identified cancellation proceeding, by and through their respective attorneys, hereby consent to a sixty (60) day extension of time in which to undertake discovery and for the subsequent trial dates filed in the above-referenced matter. The new deadline for the discovery to close and subsequent trial dates is now as follows:

Close of Discovery:	April 18, 2008
30-day testimony period for Petitioner to close:	May 17, 2008
30-day testimony period for Respondent to close:	June 17, 2008
30-day rebuttal testimony period for Petitioner to close:	August 30, 2008

The extension of time is made for the purpose of continuing settlement negotiations and also concluding the matter, and is not made for the purpose of unnecessary delay.

In December 2007, the parties believed that they had reached agreed in principle regarding the settlement of this matter. However the parties are currently in discussions about other settlement options. In a conversation on February 19, 2008, Ms. Eckels, counsel for Petitioner, requested a sixty (60) day extension of time to the discovery cut-off deadline, and Mr. Lee, counsel for Respondent, agreed.

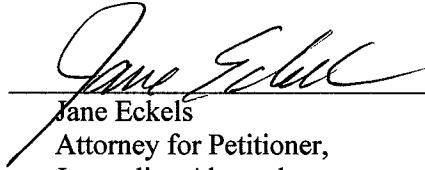

The parties believe that good cause exists for the extension of time to the discovery deadlines, that it will conserve judicial and other resources, and facilitate a fuller and more efficient resolution of the disputed matters.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVIS WRIGHT TREMAINE LLP
